

THE FOREIGN BIRD FEDERATION.

General Data Protection Regulation

PRIVACY POLICY

- When you become a delegate of the Foreign Bird Federation (FBF), we need to keep some of your personal information. This will include your name and postal address. If you agree we would also like to keep your preferred telephone number and e-mail address.
- The FBF will not share any of your personal details with any third party for marketing purposes unless you give us explicit consent.
- The FBF will not use your personal information for any automated decision making or profiling.
- It is possible that we might have to disclose this information for legal purposes.
- The legal basis for the FBF holding and processing your personal information is that we have a contractual agreement with you. As part of this agreement we will share bird-keeping related information and events that may be of interest.
- If you cease to be a member of the Federation, we will retain your personal information for the purposes of contacting you for a period of one year. At this point we will delete your information unless you give us your consent to keep it.
